Important: read carefully and keep for future enquiries

Advisory: Expormim S.A. will not assume any responsibility for damages due to normal wear or improper use of the product.

Travertine is a natural stone, and due to its origin, veins and large pores may appear sporadically throughout the surface. These large pores should not be interpreted as imperfections, but as part of the natural character of the material.

Importante: lea atentamente y conserve este documento para futuras consultas

Advertencia: Expormim S.A. no se hará responsable de los daños que se produzcan como resultado del desgaste habitual del uso inadecuado del producto.

El travertino es una piedra natural, y debido a su origen, esporádicamente pueden aparecer vetas y grandes poros por toda la superficie. Estos grandes poros no deben interpretarse como imperfecciones, si no como parte del carácter natural del material.
