TRIBAL

Tribal is a modular sofa inspired by nomadic ways of building comfort, where cushions are stacked on top of each other to create informal, inviting seating. The seat is built up of three cushions, secured with a zipper that prevents movement while allowing each cushion to be fully detached. Covers can be removed individually for dry-cleaning without treating the entire sofa. The sofa introduces a more open, less corporate way of meeting and working. It brings a more relaxed dynamic into formal settings, inviting people to soften the distance between them.
